Valley Health – Wayne Welcomes Jordan Adkins, PMHNP-BC

Wayne, W.Va. – Valley Health welcomes psychiatric nurse practitioner Jordan Adkins, PMHNP-BC, to its team of providers at Valley Health – Wayne. Adkins is actively seeing and accepting new patients.

Adkins augments the behavioral health group at Valley Health – Wayne, expanding the health center’s capability to deliver mental health services in an integrated and holistic manner. In her role, Adkins will provide psychiatric evaluation and treatment for conditions that include schizophrenia, bipolar disorder, anxiety, depression, post-traumatic stress disorder, personality disorders and Autism spectrum disorders.

A Wayne native, Adkins graduated from Wayne High School in 2005 as valedictorian. She then earned a Bachelor of Science degree in nursing with honors in 2009 from Marshall University and was the recipient of numerous merit-based scholarships, including Roxanna Booth Scholar, Erma Byrd Scholar, Presidential Scholar, Mercedes-Benz Scholar and Promise Scholar. In 2014, Adkins completed a Master of Science degree in family practice nursing from Marshall University. This year, Adkins completed a Post Masters Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner degree from Eastern Kentucky University.

Adkins has more than nine years of experience in direct patient care including critical care, primary care, home health, pediatric, women’s health and psychiatric care. She has served patients at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Cabell Huntington Hospital and Pretera Center.

Valley Health – Wayne, located at 42 McGinnis Drive in Wayne, W.Va., is a full-service primary care center with comprehensive services that include family medicine, internal medicine, pediatrics, ob/gyn care, dentistry, optical, behavioral health and pharmacy.

Individuals interested in scheduling an appointment with Jordan Adkins or with any of the Wayne health center’s other providers, may call 304-272-5136.
